Kenneth Yanow, Professor of Geographical Sciences, has been at Southwestern College for the past 12 years, where he teaches Physical Geography, Earth Science, GIScience, and Remote Sensing. He received his B.A. degree from the University of California, Santa Barbara in Physics, and two M.A. degrees (Astronomy and Geography) from San Diego State University. Yanow is co-PI for the NSF-funded National Geospatial Technology Center of Excellence (the GeoTech Center), where his primary research focus has been the recruitment and retention of underserved and underrepresented populations into geospatial technology courses and programs.